ClearOne's New Software Heightens VIEW® Platform User Experience
ClearOne VIEW CONSOLE® Configuration Management Software Expands Ease, Effectiveness of Network Media Streaming Components

SALT LAKE CITY, May 31, 2016 /PRNewswire/ -- ClearOne's [NASDAQ: CLRO] new VIEW CONSOLE configuration management software gives integrators a comprehensive platform from which to configure, manage, monitor, and control VIEW system installation using an easy, modern interface. The new toolset, which spotlights the latest in advanced software development technologies, works across ClearOne's full line of VIEW/VIEW Pro products.

"VIEW CONSOLE empowers our professional integration partners with a dramatically better user experience," ClearOne Sales Director, Network Video & Audio Streaming, North & Central America, Lewis Eig said, "while maintaining key features of the dealer setup software applications used previously." He noted that earlier tools are being sunsetted.

Key features of VIEW CONSOLE include:

- Top-level dashboard for at-a-glance system status.
- Device management to add, remove, and configure system components.
- Project management to create, configure, and store project files.
- Dashboard 'drill-down' for device monitoring and troubleshooting.
- Multi-language support.

Eig noted that ClearOne's new VIEW CONSOLE software may be used either in offline mode, i.e., when VIEW components are not connected to the network, or online mode, locally or remotely, when components are networked and live.

"ClearOne's new VIEW CONSOLE incorporates feedback from our global network of field professionals," Eig added. "It can run on both Windows® and Mac; is freely downloadable from our website; and delivers a sleek, clean, and simple user experience for all products in our network media streaming product line."
